Kit’s artistic talents were recognized statewide, with his artwork displayed at the Oklahoma State Capitol, various schools as well as tribal buildings. The community will continue to enjoy the murals he painted for years to come.

“ I had known kit for years but had the honor of getting to know more about him in the last 7 months. He was passionate about his art work and the native American culture. I am deeply saddened to hear of his passing. We had been making arrangements for myself to reach him how to crochet a mushroom so he could then take what he had learned and teach his art students at school how to do one. He emphasized that listening and truly hearing his students made them feel acknowledged and he arrived to make that possible. Willing to lend a helping hand up was his motto he once said. Kit you will be greatly missed. And to his family my condolences...

“ I had Mr.C as an art teacher at Moseley, I always thought he was a great teacher and great person. He was a very talented artist that taught his students to be confident in themselves and their artwork. Praying for all those that loved him!
