“ Uncle Steve, I thank you for the amazingly loving rival of a Chiefs fan a nephew could ask for. Was so much fun to have the loving and humorous trash talk we had about football. I know you heard me before you left this physical world. I told you that I didn't know how could actually do it but I would actually root for the Raiders to win it all this year. I'll never forget the stories of the chaotic times we had, and they make me burst out in laughter at the thought of them. I love you Uncle Steve, and thank you for never truly leaving us as your memory will always remain in our hearts. GO RAIDERS!!!!!!

“ Steve, my brother-in-law was an amazing guy who definitely knew how to have fun I will always remember how he and I would supply the music. We didn't always agree on the songs or the the band but we would always get it too loud for everyone else. I told him if it's too loud you're too old, right? He was also very funny. Sometimes when we'd play cards he would have everyone laughing. I'm sure going to miss you!! You were not only a great brother-in-law, you were a great friend. Be sure and keep playing some Skynard and Metalica real loud so we can keep on partying. I love you so much! Many hugs from me to you forever 💕💕👍

“ Steve and I met at a AA meeting in Grove. he invited me to his home one night,saying he had a pool and we could go for a midnight swim, that other friends would be there also. Turns out I was the only one who showed up. We swam a bit and after an hour I said I best be going home. got in my car, and he took my hand and kissed it. WHAT??? we fell in love and married a year later, making 30 yrs together. Steve, you left too soon,, But my brother in Australia, sd he made an appointment to have a fitting for a pair of hinges so you could get the best Angel wings. We will be together forever. I Love You Always your Wife,

“ I remember when we were out visiting one summer. Steve took us out fishing on his boat. On the way back In he was complaining that he didn't know why the boat has no power. Turned out we never pulled up the anchor and drug it all the way back across the lake
