“ Not only were we cousins, but also the best of friends. We couldn't have asked for a better childhood than growing up together here on Whitewater Creek. As I looked out my window today, I could see us burying each other in the corn crib, jumping out of the barn window, swimming in the creek, hunting Easter eggs, bouncing all the paper off our Christmas basketballs from Grandma and Grandpa, way before Christmas, catching fish on a bent safety pin and stick with twine, being too scared to sleep at night from telling scary stories about the cemetery across the road, playing school and you always let me be the teacher, our upper room clubhouse in Grandpa's shed, and so many more precious memories. However, what I remember most is your voice. I still hear you say at the end of every conversation, including the last time I spoke with you, "I love you, Linda Jean". Terry Gene, I love you, too, for always❤️

“ I was so happy when Terry finally joined us on the Holloway cousins so nice to be able to talk to him I know we all can't be together so having a place we can share things. I always ask mom why we didn't have a closer family I never got an answer so I figured facebook for now is the best way we can be together I'm sorry for your loss ... I look at Terry's picture and I see grandpa and I see Gene you will be missed Love to all...
